LABOR TREASURER MURPHY

Judge Stated That John Mitchell Claimed Part of Embezzled Funds Was for the Striking Miners.

New York, July M .- Lawrence Murphy. formerly treasurer of the Journeymen Stone

ency for his client, but Judge Newburger scored the prisoner severely, saying that he spent the funds of the union in rictors livfng, and that his total stealings amounted 10 $27,000.

In the course of his remarks he said: "I have a letter from John Mitchell, in which he states that part of the money embezzled by Murphy was paid in by workingmen who belong to the society to be contributed to the strike funds of miners in Pennsylvania.

money from men who worked by the sweat of their brows to earn an honest living. "Twenty-seven thousand dollars is a large sum of money indeed, and the evidence at the trial shows that it was spent in riotous living and for a trap to Europe."

When the Judge had finished Murphy was crying bitterly and appeared to be on the verge of collapse. "My God!" he shouled, "Every one of

"he excitement and shame of the trial have made me sick and dispirited. I want to bet away from here. In prison, maybe, I will hear no more of the things that are said against me. That will do me good. I

The most noticeable thing about these jackets is that they have no curves. Of French blue voile, the trimming is formed by narrow blas bands of taffeta silk of darker shades, three rows on the skirt. very reminiscent of those periods which now dominate fashion, the end of the Eight-eenth Century and the first half of the Nineteenth. A cost that was formed of shot taffeta founded its coloring on the fuchsia.

The warp of the silk was red and the west pale pink, and the blending produced a most levely tone, and on this cont were the most wonderful trimmings of fachsias formed in shaded taffetus.

Some beautiful filet lace also surrounded the pelerine of this coat.

and a weft of white, produced a lovely, soft, opalescent pale bine, was another cost, on which were delicate laces and pink slik and chiffon roses; this was lined with sunray-pleated white chiffon.

Shot slik and pale cloth are the fabrics chosen by the elect for the evening cloak th's senson; and another coat was of pale-blue cloth and pale-blue guipure, wide and most gracefully applied, and under which—the cloth being cut away—was a double layer of black chiffon. These pale-colored laces are at present not quite so much in evidence.

EARLY FALL STREET SUITS. Long Coat Will Re Prevailing Model for Carriage Costumes. The fall and winter street suits will be made with skirts of instep length and the long fitted coat. This coat in various adaptations will be the prevailing model for street and carriage costumes. Its skirt grows longer, quite to the knee, indeed, and below it for dress wear. These are the developments of the present season's fashdevelopments of the present season's lash-ion.

We do not have nowadays the radical changes that used to be considered neces-sary. The good style of one season be-comes the leading style of the next. It is perfected and adapted, the right material is found for it, and by the third season it is evolved into a fine and satisfactory style-winch holds for a longer period than for-merly. This is the history of the Russian blouse, which existed with slight changes for several years.

HATS TO MATCH GOWNS. Plain Hendgear May Be Smartened by

Use of Ribbon or Foulard. The Breton hat appears this year in col-ored linen to match any dress, the brim stitched with several rows of rilk and bound with a darker shade. These hats are cerwith a carker shape, tallity plain and businesslike, but may be sances smartened up by means of a twist of soft ribbon or foulard, knoted into a large bow. It should be noted in regard to ribbons and bows on millinery, as they form a large bereentage of the trimming in vogue on river hats, that the bows do not flop; the loops are finely plisse to give them stiffness, and very few of them have ends. Ruchings and twists are more seen than bands. There is a leaning toward brilliant-colored flowers in millinery, rather than the pale roses and other blooms, which, pretty enough at first, are robbed of all color after a few hours sun. Wreaths of roses, shaded from a deep purplish crimson to a rose mauve, and without any foliage, are one of the best trimmings for the flat sallors, and further clusters of roses are used at the back to turn up the brim.

NOVEL BEAD TRIMMINGS.

They Are Seen in a Wide Range of The popular work this season for the summer plazza is bead embrodery and weaving, and the little frames and looms on which the work is done are much in evidence.

The beads come in as wide a range of colors and shades as do the embroidery silks, making it possible to copy accurately any tint of flower or leaf.

SMART SUMMER FANS.

Many Varieties of Novel Effects Are Seen This Season. The smart young woman wears at the moment a tiny fan dangling from her neck chain. As the changes the chain with each costume, so the fan takes on may differ-There are fans for morning use, fans for afternoon tollets and fans to go with evening dress. When open these fans are no longer than a woman's hand with the fingers spread. VOGUE OF WHITE TOILETS.

Mohairs Are Effective in Silver Gray, Pongee and Champagne. For the moment white toilets are the rage. Mohairs are particularly good just now, in white and silver gray, pongee, or champagne color. They have a beautiful luster, due to improved methods facture, and the new designs are decided in nevations.

Featherbone is being used in all lace and lingeric collars, both those found in the stores and those made at the most exclusive places. It is put in an X or V in front and a straight piece in the back. Irish lace, Venise and stock collars of open-work embroidery are essential.

THE FAIRY'S ROBE. THE FART'S ROBE.

There was a fairy, wise and good,
Once on a time, as I've heard say.
Who took the bits of happiness
That foolish folks hied thrown away,
And wove them in a wondrous loom
Till she had made a Robe of Joy,
Whose shining folds were never dimmed,
And which no time could e'er destroy.

Then all the people cried "Alack!
Lend us, we pray, this wondrons dress,
That we may say that we have known
At least a borrowed happiness!"
The fairy smiled, "Go, look," she said,
"Along your path, and you will find
That, though a few stray joys I took,
Yet plenty still remain behind!"
—Priscilla Leonard.

MILLINERY NOVELTIES. Long Ostrich Plumes Are Now Dyed in Patches.

In millinery for fall and winter wear the high-crowned hat in the big shape and the turban in the small shape age the favor-ites. In garnitures shaded effects will be much used for expensive hats. Long on trich plumes are now dyed in patches showtrich plumes are now dyed in patches showing in one plume perhaps five tones of the same color. They will shade from a deep Burgundy red through to a light pink, from Hayana brown to a pale champaging that, from bluet to hyachith blue. The mauve and violet shadings are particularly rich and effective.

A golden Milan straw hat brought over recently by one of the best-dressed women in New York, has a high quilling around the crown, of the rich red Burgundy velvet, and an ostrich feather shade twenty-seven inches long of the pinkish mauve swept around the hat and down the hair almost to the shoulder. This was worn must effectively with a mauve crepe de Chine.

"BIRDS" WILL PE WORN. Feathers of Common Fowl Are 1 sed on Millinery Effects.

Birds are to be worn more than ever in millinery, but the bird lovers need not despair, for these trimming birds never sang a song. The stuffed bird, in fact is being eliminated from millinery for what might be termed natural causes. They have come to be regarded as tasteless, as they cannot be handled with at all the same case and effect that the made bird can. The wings of the stuffed bird are stiff,

!RON AND STEEL IMPORTS BREAK 12-YEAR RECORD.

Department of Commerce Announces Value of Receipts of Year Ending June 30, 1903, to Be $51,617.312.

The Republic Eureau, 16th St. and Pennsylvania Ave. Washington, July 31.—Importations of iron and steel into the United States in the fiscal year 1903 are larger than in any preceding year since 1891, and with that single excepfon are larger than at any time within the past twenty years. The total value of iron and steel imported in the fiscal year ended June 20, 1905, as shown by the figures of the Department of Commerce and Labor through its Bureau of Statistics, is $51.-617.312, against $27,180,247 in 1902, $17,874,789 La 1901 and $12 100 440 in 1899 Running back through the import record from 1850 down to 1961, the only years in which the value of fron and sivel imports which the value of from and steel imports exceeded those of 1903 are 1872, when the total was $55,540,188; 1871, $50,005,562; 1880, $53,714,088; 1881, $50,004,477; 1882, $97,576,897; 1883, $38,95,246, and 1891, $53,544,272.

This arge increase in the importation of from and steel is chiefly in the partially manufactured grades. Pig from increased from 188,090 tons in 1992 to $55,000 tons in 1903, the value being in 1902 less than $5,500,000,000 pounds in 1902 to $55,000,000 pounds in 1903 is teel imports below, stabs, billets and hars from 202,0,0,000 pounds to 850,000,000 pounds, the value increasing from $5,500,000 in 1902 to nearly $10,000,000 in 1903 for nearly $10,000,000 in 1903. Steel rails increased from $571,462 to $2.874,188, and scrap from and steel, fit only for manufacture, increased from $768,754 to $2.019,258.

These five classes of iton and steel combined shows as increased from $2.019,258.

These five classes of iron and steel combined show an increase in 1903, as compared with 1902, of $24,256,427, while the total increase in all imports of iron and steel during the year is $24,437,655.
